Conclusion

I am grateful for the lessons this academic year taught us about how to lead towards achievement as we move towards a post covid scenario. I have a lot of faith that St. Aloysius College will easily soar with the momentum it has built during this academic year. We have learnt new skills, unlearned old ones, and relearned the meaning of learning, my friends, colleagues, and fellow students. We have also turned our worries into strengths. The results of our efforts will be what we have more to look forward to, and they may be nothing less than success. All the very best.
